

Senior Update - Week of November 7th

- December 1st Deadlines – As we have been announcing , if students have any December 1st deadlines for applications, Please be sure to set up a packaging meeting as soon as possible...it gets very booked and Miss Hoyt wants to make sure she can fit everyone in for meetings.
- Report Card Grades – Please be sure to carefully review your grades. If anything seems incorrect, be sure to speak with the individual class teacher RIGHT AWAY. If there has been a mistake, the teacher will correct it. If there is a mistake, let Miss Hoyt know as soon as possible also – as the first quarter grades are going to be sent out to colleges this week (for students whose applications we have already sent out)

- Optional Report on the Common Application – As previously mentioned, the Common Application has a new feature this year called the Optional Grade Report – Miss Hoyt can download this sheet for students. If a student had a low/not so good grade in a subject for the first quarter, but has been making improvements in that class(es), Miss Hoyt can send out this report anytime between now and the end of January (when the second quarter ends). Miss Hoyt gets the current grade from teachers and will write the report that the student is improving and what the current grade would be for that class. Please leave Miss Hoyt a note if you would like to get help with this report.
- Student Political “Boot Camp” – “Howard Dean, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee, will kick off a bipartisan Rhode Island Student Political Boot Camp for high school and college students on November 18th at the University of Rhode Island. The three day event is about empowering youth with the skills to create chance”. Registration and other information is available online at: www.ofbyforrhodeisland.org—This would be a great experience for any seniors interested in political science, law, government, history, current events.

Open House/ Informational Sessions

Providence College

Rhode Island College

Salve Regina University

Seniors should make every attempt to visit those colleges they are seriously considering attending. Even if students have already visited, the more times they visit, have connection with the colleges, the more it is looked favorably upon by the admissions counselors.

Seniors should also be introducing themselves to college representatives during the lunch periods. Again, this shows the colleges students really are serious about wanting to be accepted by the schools.
