Imagine that you have lived through most of the twenty-first century and a historian wants to interview you about your experiences.

First, brainstorm a list of social changes and technological innovations that have already occurred during the first 20 years of the twenty-first century. NOW...try to think of some social changes and technological innovations that MIGHT occur in the next 50 to 75 years.

Write a fictional interview (between you and the historian) describing how those changes affected the mood, hopes, and fears of people during the century.

All work should be submitted electronically via Google Classroom.

Clearly label each Activity and submit it under the summer assignment postings. This assignment will be your first grades of the quarter and collectively will be worth 60 Class Points.
